DETAILED ACTION

Double Patenting

1. The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. See In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and, In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent is shown to be commonly owned with this application. See 37 CFR 1.130(b).

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

2. Claims 1,4-16, are rejected under the judicially created doctrine of obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 1-19 of U.S. Patent No. 6,602,704 B1. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because the current claims are anticipated by the claims of the 6,602,704 B1 patent.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

3. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

Claim 5 recites the limitation "the flange member" in claim 1. There is insufficient antecedent basis for this limitation in the claim.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

4. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

5. Claims 1,6, are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by USP 3,769,936 ('936).

The '936 patent discloses a dish equivalent to the claimed base member and a cover equivalent to the claimed lid. The cover is equipped with ribs (2") positioned on the inner side wall of the lid and constructed and positioned and designed so as to resiliently contact the outer side wall of the base thus securing the lid to the base (col.3, lines 4-12). The ribs (2") are considered to be equivalent to the claimed ribs.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

6. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

7. Claims 4,5,7-16 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over USP 3,769,936 ('936).

The claims specify particular dimensions of the ribs and various retention forces provided by contact between the ribs and the outer wall of the base.

The '936 patent specifically discloses the function of the ribs (2") is to provide a resilient contact for securing the lid to the base (col.3, lines 4-12). The reference though is silent as to a specific retention force, as claimed. One skilled in the art (mechanical or chemical engineer) understands that the degree of resiliency between the lid and base in the '936 patent is dependent upon the amount of surface area contact between the ribs and base, and that amount will vary based on the dimensions of the ribs, the angle of the ribs with respect to the outer wall of the base and the number of ribs. Also, "[W]here the general conditions of a claim are disclosed in the prior art, it is not inventive to discover the optimum or workable ranges by routine experimentation." In Re Aller, 220 F.2d 454, 456, 105 USPQ 233, 235(CCPA 1955). The claims which specify various sizes, dimensions, angles, and number of ribs are considered to constitute obvious variations of those shown in the '936 patent.
